1. 				This is to call your attention to a recent enactment concerning credit bureaus (Fair Credit Reporting Act, Title VI, P.L. 508, see attached). The overall purpose of the Act is to assure that credit information is fair, impartial and its use does not improperly intrude on individual privacy, but in the process, it also places limitations on permissible areas of inquiry by Government agencies, and establishes certain disclosure and enforcement procedures. The Office of Security is currently drawing up guidelines for dealing with credit bureaus in the face of these new limitations. STAT STAT is the focal point for these efforts. The above is furnished against the possibility that it may be relevant to activities within the cognizance of your office but not the Office of Security. Please let us know if you would like further information.
